

IAMP/FEAM International Workshop on “Integrated education in One Health” (public health, animal health and environmental health)
Hungarian Academy of Sciences, Budapest, 5 June 2013

The Workshop

The workshop will gather experts to discuss state-of-the-art knowledge on integrated education in “One Health” in and beyond Europe, to share experiences and best practices, and to make recommendations for future activities on integrated education in “One Health” within the framework of activities conducted by the inter-academy community, UN organizations, and bilateral/multilateral cooperation also in view of Horizon 2020. The workshop will allow for addressing different levels of education from primary school to university and from research activities to public awareness.

The Programme

The workshop will take place from 9:30 to 17:30 at the Hungarian Academy of Sciences in Budapest and will include the following technical sessions with brief presentations by key-note panellists and an open floor discussion:

- Why an integrated education in One Health?
- Primary and Secondary School Education
- Tertiary and Continuing Education / Research
- Communication and Public Awareness

A concluding session will focus on seeking to identify recommendations and defining a concept note for potential future collective activities, which will be submitted to the inter-academy community and to relevant potential donors.

The Workshop is a joint event of the InterAcademy Medical Panel (IAMP) and the Federation of European Academies of Medicine (FEAM) within the framework of the Italo-Hungarian International Year of Culture and Science
